Call for Paper

Celtic: A Journal of Culture, English Language Teaching, Literature and Linguistics is a peer reviewed academic journal managed by the English Language Education Department, Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, University of Muhammadiyah Malang. It is published twice a year, in June and December. We welcome articles in the form of research reports or library research on English Language Teaching, Literature, Linguistics, and Culture. Generally, all manuscript received between December-May are allocated for June Edition, while those received between June-November are for December Edition. ISSN 2356-0401 (print), 2621-9158 (online); the article submission and publication are free of charge. CELTIC has been indexed in SINTA (Sinta 3), DOAJ, Google Scholar, BASE, Crossref, Garuda, Dimension, ROAD, and Harvard Library.

Check our Author Guide below for details on how to submit.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

I. Author Guide

Authors are required to submit their manuscripts electronically by using the CELTIC online submission and review website. New authors are required to register first before they can send their manuscript at <https://ejournal.ummm.ac.id/index.php/celtic/user/register>. Existing authors can submit their manuscript after logging in to the website. Any questions related to the online submission can be emailed to celtic@ummm.ac.id.

Submission of a manuscript implies that the paper is the author(s)' own work which has not been previously published, nor is it under consideration for publication elsewhere and that if accepted, it will not be published elsewhere in English or in other languages. To verify originality, your article will be checked using the originality detection service Turnitin.

Authors are encouraged to carefully consider the list and order of authorship before submitting their manuscript. Addition, deletion or rearrangement of authorship should be made only before the manuscript is accepted—such a request will not be processed after the work is accepted for publication. The request should be made in written and emailed to celtic@ummm.ac.id.

Authors are required to acknowledge the financial support received for conducting the research and to briefly describe the roles of the sponsors, if any, in the study. See 'Template' for the funding acknowledgment information. As a peer-reviewed academic journal, CELTIC requires its authors to strongly uphold academic ethics when conducting and reporting their research for publication.

II. Manuscript Preparation Guidelines

General Format

The manuscript should be between 5000 – 10,000 words, typed in MS Word .doc format, single spaced and single column, using 12 point Cambria font, on A4-size paper with 3 cm margins (all sides). and given bottom-center page number. A one-paragraph abstract (100 – 200 words) written in both English and Indonesian should be included.

The manuscript should be uploaded to CELTIC system and arranged in CELTIC standard format; Title, Authors, Affiliation and Email, Abstract, Keywords, Introduction, Findings, Discussion, Conclusion, and References.

Manuscript Title

The title should accurately describe the content (Maximum 14 Words, Center Alignment, All Capital, Bold, Cambria 14, Single Space).

Authors

The manuscript has the main author and, if any, co-authors with the full name of the author and co-authors (no abbreviation, no title), includes affiliation of each author and email address(es) clearly. Denote the corresponding author clearly by giving star(*) right after the name.

Abstracts

The abstract should be informative and completely self-explanatory, provide a clear statement of the problem, the proposed approach or solution, and point out major findings and conclusions. The Abstract should be 100 to 200 words in length. Abbreviations should be avoided and no literature should be cited. Abstract is provided in English and Indonesian languages.

Keywords

The keywords should avoid general, plural terms and multiple concepts. Do not use words or terms in the title as keywords. These keywords will be used for indexing purposes. Keywords should be 3-5 words or phrases arranged in alphabetical order. Keywords are written right after Abstract and are provided in English and Indonesian languages.

Introduction

The introduction should provide a clear background, a clear statement of the problem, the relevant literature on the subject, proposed approach or solution, and clearly present the novelty of research or the latest innovation. It should be understandable to colleagues from a broad range of scientific disciplines.

Method

This section describes the way the research was conducted. This should include (1) research design; (2) population and samples; (3) data collection techniques and instrument development; and (4) data analysis techniques.

Findings

This section should present the results of research and at the same time give comprehensive discussion. The presentation can be made in sub-sections based on the research question(s). Results can be presented using figures, graphs, tables, and other visual aids to help readers understand easily. The unit of measurement used should follow the prevailing international system. All figures and tables placed separately at the end of manuscript pages and should be active and editable by the editor. See our Template.

Discussion

The discussion section should present the highlights and significance of the findings. For that, deep interpretation of the results are expected. Ensure that all research questions are addressed and relate the findings to the existing literature. Profound exploration of theoretical significance related to findings and recommendations for further research and research implications are also expected in this section.

When combined, Findings and Discussion sections should cover about 40-50% of the paper with balanced portion of both.

Conclusion

The conclusion should be explained clearly. Suggestion placed after the conclusion contains recommendation based on the research done or inputs that can be used by potential beneficiaries or future research.

Acknowledgment (optional)

Acknowledgment of supporting parties (i.e. sponsors), if any, should be written here. The acknowledgment must be written briefly and clearly, avoid hyperbole acknowledgment.

References

The main references are international journals and proceeding. All references should be to the most pertinent and up-to-date sources. The references mentioned should be the ones used in the paper. Citation and referencing must be written based on APA style 7th Edition which is organized by using referencing tools. CELTIC recommends using the latest version of Mendeley (See Mendeley User Guidelines).

DISCUSSION

Please refer to the Author Guideline in CELTIC website for the detail of the contents of each sections.

CONCLUSION

This part provides the summary of results and discussion which refers to the research aims. Thus, the new principal ideas, which are essential part of the research findings, are developed.

Conclusions should answer the objectives of the research. Tells how your work advances the field from the present state of knowledge. Without clear Conclusions, reviewers and readers will find it difficult to judge the work, and whether or not it merits publication in the journal. Do not repeat the Abstract, or just list experimental results. Provide a clear scientific justification for your work, and indicate possible applications and extensions. You should also suggest future experiments and/or point out those that are underway.

The suggestions, which are arranged based on research discussed-findings, are also written in this part. These should be based on practical activities, new theoretical development, and/or advance research.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

If any, indicate sources of funding or significant assistance received in carrying out the study and/or preparing the manuscript before the references.

REFERENCES

Use APA Style 7th Edition for in-text citations (Author, year) and the reference list. If there are “direct quotes, then provide the page number” (Author, 2021, p. 24). If you are citing more than one reference, put them in alphabetical order (Alpha, 2020; Beta, 2021).

Secondary Citations are limited to two (2). Do not use footnotes. Every in-text citation must correspond to an entry in the reference list and vice-versa. CELTIC strongly recommends using the latest version of Mendeley Referencing Manager. Minimum 30 references are required with 80% taken from current (within 10 year) research papers (Journal), and 50% from reliable research papers (e.g. Wos/Scopus indexed or Sinta 2 and above). Please also note to cite and quote relevant papers in the previous CELTIC publications available in the ‘Archive’ section of CELTIC Website <http://ejournal.umm.ac.id/index.php/celtic/index>
